

PRIVATE LESSONS AND BEHAVIORAL CONSULTATIONS

$75 per 1-hour session

For dogs who aren't ready to train in a group setting or for owners who can't attend a group class, Family Dog School offers private, one-on-one training sessions.

Aggression, reactivity and fear-related behaviors are just some examples of problems best addressed in private consultations. In an individually tailored session, you and your dog will meet with an instructor who will help you interpret canine body language and stress signals and develop a training and behavior modification program for your dog.

Behavioral Consultations and Private Lessons are scheduled Wednesdays and Thursdays, 9-4. Please contact Lisa to discuss if either of these options would be right for you and your dog.

This 6-week class builds a foundation of scent work for you and your dog. Class begins in a small enclosed area, and week by week the challenges become progressively harder as the search space grows larger. Exercises build a strong desire to search that allows dogs to work through an assortment of odor puzzles with little stress and frustration. Participants will learn how to read a dog's body language to become a great team member.

➡ Limited to a max number of 5 dogs per class. Classes time varies depending on the number of dogs enrolled in the session. Each dog is given 15 minutes of search time total. Please contact Claudia for registration requirements.
